Fire destroys home at Davis Lake Road

Minden-The home of Roy and Sharon Greer, on Davis Lake Road, was totally destroyed by fire last Wednesday.

It is believed that the fire was caused by wiring which may have been damaged by chipmunks.

The fire, which started at 11 a.m., was fought by the Minden Fire Department.

The Greers, who have been living in the house since moving back to the area in June, have three children ranging in age from three to 15.

They moved back to the area from Oshawa. Mr. Greer works in Lindsay.

The family was burned out six years ago when they lived in Peterborough.

The Greers lost nearly alll of their clothes and furniture but find the greatest loss to be the keepsakes which they just cannot replace.

Polly Adair, an old friend of the family, who lives in Norland, has offered them a house to live in.

The Greers told The Haliburton County Echo and Minden Recorder that they feel everything will work out. They pointed out that they are grateful to everyone that has helped.

Sharon and Roy Greer of Davis Lake Road stand in front of the charred ruins of their house. The house was destroyed by fire last Wednesday. The Greers and their three children lost nearly all of their clothes and furniture in the fire. The family moved back to the area in June, from Oshawa.

Only four weeks of capacity for tourist operators

Minden-Bob Stinson, Manager of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce, said that there was only four weeks of capacity operation during the tourist season.

In his column "From the Chamber" Mr. Stinson pointed to the reluctance of people to book accommodations in advance and the cold snap in August as the factors for the short season.

Mr. Stinson said that not all tourist operators did not do well this summer.

"Some operators did as well or better than years in the past and were quite surprised to find out that everyone wasn't as busy as they were. Visitors are becoming extremely selective, and they're simply not prepared to commit themselves on an extended stay anywhere on the basis of a pretty brochure," he said.

He pointed out that the tourists are not necessarily demanding the top luxury resorts but they are demanding "something special."

Mr. Stinson pointed out that the trick is to find something special.

He said that the retail businesses on the whole seemed to do as well or better this year than last.

"Considering that there is new competition in virtually every line of retail business this year, this would indicate a substantial increase overall in money spent within this county," Mr. Stinson said.

In the column Mr. Stinson pointed out that "There is a definite feeling that if we are graced with good weather this fall we may pick up much of the business which was lost due to the bad weather in August.

Erase Safeguards

Frank Miller comments on shoreline allowances

Lutterworth - Sole and unilateral jurisdiction by a local municipality over the shoreline road allowance would erase safeguards built into the Municipal Act, according to Frank Miller, Minister of Natural Resources.

A letter from Mr. Miller to the Township of Lutterworth thanked the township for its wish to gain full control and jurisdiction over shoreline road allowances within the municipality.

"While implementation of this proposal would undoubtedly help to streamline council's handling of situations such as the one you describe on Devil's Lake, sole and unilateral jurisdiction by a local municipality would erase the safeguards built into the Municipal Act. These safeguards - to ensure opportunity for other levels of government to consider the overall desirability of stopping up and selling segments of shoreline road allowances - have been in the legislation for many years and continue, in my view, to be valid today," Mr. Miller said.

The letter was dated May 25 and was in reply to a letter from the council sent on May 10.

Mr. Miller pointed out that because of the value of waterways for public recreation, public ownership of shoreline allowances is generaly desirable. "It ensures access to shores for everyone, allows management of waterways and their shores by this Ministry and/or other agencies, reduces the possibilities of water pollution, and ensures that riparian rights remain vested in a public body," Mr. Miller said. Mr. Miller also pointed out that when stopping up a road allowance the crown, as an abutting owner, has the right under the Municipal Act to purchase half of the stopped up shoreline road allowance.

He did suggest that in one case perhaps the bylaw would be more acceptable if only the portion of the road allowance that is occupied by a cottage be stopped up and sold.

Mr. Miller noted that he would be taking the issue up with the Ministry of the Treasury, Economics and Intergovernmental Affairs.

Pat Conaghan, Reeve of Lutterworth Township, and Dave Sweezey of the Operations and Development Control Branch of the Ministry of Housing were at The Wagon Wheel last week to discuss shoreline road allowances with ratepayers of the township. The meeting took place last Saturday morning with about 100 people in attendance.

Water lot taxes said to be unfair

Minden - Bob Stinson, Manager of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce said in his column "From the Chamber" that the Ministry of Natural Resources intends to continue the "unfair practice" of assessing commercial operators for docks and rafts and not private property owners.

In a letter from Mr. Stinson to Frank Miller, Minister of Natural Resources, it is stated, "There is considerable concern not only in our area, but in others, about how these leases (water lot leases) are being arrived at, and what protection the local operator has against enormous increases in the lease fee. All members of the tourist trade are extremely concerned this year that tourism is down and

Some chance for the closing parts of shoreline

Lutterworth - Dave Sweezey of the operations and development control branch of the Ministry of Housing offered some alternatives for Lutterworth Township in the shoreline road allowance situation.

Mr. Sweezey, in a letter earlier this year to the council said, "To help individuals to get deeds for land that has a cottage already on it, sometimes a problem could be solved by closing small pieces of road allowances, namely those on which the building sits, plus small strips (perhaps two feet) enough to provide for eaves and other projections."

Secondly he said that if the land of the road allowance is suitable for building a road, anything less than about 30 to 33 feet in width would not leave practical space for a road.

"For land (the side of a cliff, for example) not usable for constructing a road on it at all, the road closing request should be dealt with on its own merits as suggested at your May 2, 1977 council meeting.

He pointed out that on the question of shoreline road allowance the Ministry of Housing has to pay attention to advice received from other ministries commenting on each bylaw.

Property owners meeting

Minden - The Canning Lake Property Owners' Association elected a new executive at its annual meeting held August 7.

William Reynolds was elected president, Vernon Spruit first vice president and William Riddell second vice president.

Ronald Packer is the treasurer, Jack Ashby secretary, Sally Nicol bulletin editor, and the directors are Reg Ballantyne, Lorne Dittmer, Bruce Lindsay, Morgan Loucks, James Martin, Stu Sommacal, Audy Wilson and E.L. Ramesdale.

Earle Wilson, the president of the group for the past two years will remain as a committee member.

Fifty-nine members attended the meeting which was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Riddell.

Special guest at the meeting was Ontario Provincial Police Constable Wim Magee who discussed crime prevention and water safety.

Two topics that prompted discussion were speed limits for power boats in channels and narrows and the consumption of alcoholic beverages in boats.

Constable Magee advised the group that the speed limits on navigatable waters come under the jurisdiction of the federal government.

He pointed out that consuming alcoholic beverages while in a boat was a criminal offence punishable by a fine of $78.

Reports were given by the chairmen of various committee dealing with public affairs, control of water pollution, recreation, educational awards and Fred Jones Bass Derby.

Harvey Burgess, past president of the group and a director of the Ontario Cottagers' Association spoke on the merits of the Canning Lake Property Owners being members of F.O.C.A.

He pointed out that some of the matters of importance to the cottage owners being pursued by the F.O.C.A. are the 66 foot road allowance on lakes, seasonal residential limitations on cottage properties and school taxes on summer properties.

Report from Queen's Park

BY MPP JOHN EAKINS

The development of tourism in Ontario has contributed quite substantially to our Province's economy. It is, in fact, one of our largest employers and our second biggest industry. Last year it produced $2.8 billion in revenue and employed 200,000 people.

Without question it is one of our greatest sources of foreign currency. In 1976 some 20,755,000 tourists from the United States visited Ontario, spending in the neighborhood of $750,000,000. Visitors from all other countries totalled 885,000, and spent a further $290,000,000.

The tourist industry is vital to the economy of Ontario, but it has recently been losing ground. For a number of years now, the total number of visitors choosing this province for a vacation-land has been steadily decreasing. Over the same period, the number of Ontarians seeking a sunny southern climate, or taking advantage of charter flights abroad has increased. This has meant that the growth rate of tourism revenues in Ontario has declined steadily since 1974.

This trend was particularly noticeable in 1976. A number of factors made this a somewhat disastrous year for Ontario tourism: the Montreal Olympics, the U.S. Bicentennial celebrations and the U.S. Presidential Election, the energy crisis, confusion regarding sizes of U.S. and Canadian gallons of gasoline, the exchange rate on the dollar, negative publicity regarding mercury pollution of some of our lakes, and the general economic slump.

Many tourist facility operators throughout the province looked forward to 1977 for a return to increased valuable tourist dollars. So far the prospects are not very good.

For some reason, the slump in tourism is continuing.

In the first quarter of this year, the number of non-residents visiting Ontario decreased by some 8 per cent, compared with the first quarter of 1976 - which had itself been a poor year for tourism in the province.

On the other hand, the number of Ontarians choosing to travel outside the country has continued to increase at an average rate of 8.5 per cent for every first quarter since 1974. This would indicate that the problem is more serious than simply a matter of a year during which a number of special and interesting activities took place outside Ontario.

Our tourist industry has to cope with a reputation for being overpriced. In fact, our costs are higher.

For example, the interest costs on funds used to build a motel in Canada would be approximately 11 per cent, compared with 7 per cent in the United States. This would increase overhead costs from the outset. Minimum hourly wages are also higher here, making operating costs greater. Our property tax system places many motels at a competitive disadvantage. Finally, some businesses simply are not honouring the exchange rate, which at present is favorable to American visitors.

We must also bear in mind the fact that we are actually in competition with other provinces for the tourist business of our own residents, since Ontarians themselves are the target of many advertising programmes. The people of the province are especially desirable visitors. They tend to stay longer at tourist facilities, consequently spending more money.

Ontario tourism is an attractive proposition for the holiday maker. We have, in this province, superb scenery and recreational opportunities which are so unique that people genuinely wish to return once they have experienced a holiday here. However, our tourist industry will continue to be in a depressed condition until some of the problems which are being experienced can be corrected.

This province invests some $6 million annually in an effort to attract and retain tourism dollars. For the most part, promotional activities prove rewarding. The return on our advertising dollar is approximately $260. That is a higher return than that obtained by the Federal Government or the Province of Quebec, which, by comparison, obtain only $158 and $147 on the dollar, respectively.

Bearing in mind the vital importance of Ontario's tourism industry - both with respect to the provincial economy, and in the light of the employment opportunities which it offers - possibly more efforts should be made to promote this facet of business in the province.

The Carnarvon-Stanhope Ladies Softball not only won the league championships last week, but came up with a win in the First Annual Wilberforce Minor Hockey Association Softball Tournament on Sunday. Front row, Karen Eager, Terry Mansen, Darlene Barnhart, Lynn Barnhart, Heather Thompson, Ann Hewson and Cathy Darby. Back row, Steve Barker (coach), Lois Reid, Shirley Harrison, Jean Foster, Sandra Barnhart, Marilyn Kinsman, Belinda Brown, Marg Darby and Joan Alger (coach). Missing when the photo was taken, Barbara Barnhart, Carolyn Kinsman and Lois McBriend.

Storage losses on the reservoirs held to 1 per cent

The rainfall and cool weather of the past weeks continued to dampen holiday spirits but has held storage losses on the reservoirs to less than 1 per cent for the past week. Storage remaining on the reservoirs amounted to 50 per cent on Monday, August 22, only 2 days ahead of normal on the historical storage decline.

Minimum flows were run from the reservoirs for the past week, and the outflows from the Kawartha Lakes were also held to minimum.

The canal dredging crew and equipment is still working near Trent River, removing some of the older cribs along the channel. The cribs being removed were in particularly bad condition.

Where the crib has been removed a buoy will be placed to designate the channel, if necessary, so boaters in the area should watch for new buoys.

Lock 45, Port Severn, will be open an extra two weeks after the close of navigation October 12. It will close on October 30 for the season. The season has been extended to allow fishermen access to and from Georgian Bay.

There was a large crowd to witness the action last Saturday night at the opening of the new park in Stanhope. The first game was between the Carnarvon Ladies softball team and the Stanhope Firefighters. The game, which was said to be one of the finest played, provided some excellent action for the spectators.

Need information on Mercury

Information just seems to be trickling in concerning mercury in lakes in Haliburton County.

Last week we learned of small amounts of mercury in a couple more area lakes.

Now is the time to put a little pressure on the provincial government and find out just what lakes contain mercury and how dangerous the situation is.

Possibly more Haliburton Lakes have some level of mercury contamination, perhaps there is no problem at all. What the taxpayers of the area have the right to know though, is just how much mercury there is.

The Ministry of the Environment has the responsibility of telling us about these problems and looking for solutions. The ministry should be doing a little more of that type of work.

Dysart Arena Fund heading for the top

It isn't going to take much more to get the Dysart Arena Fund over the top, but it still will take a little more money.

The fund made it to the $20,000 mark last week with a number of donations, but $5,000 is still needed to pay for the repairs and improvements to the arena.

Various groups have contributed to the arena fund in many ways, but the major contribution is still from the Rotary Club and some members of the municipal staff who have helped to see that the fund raising project was a success.

Should cottagers be concerned?

The Ontario Cottagers' Association is concerned with 66 foot shoreline road allowances. That is what was stated in a news release from the Canning Lake Property Owners Association.

What we cannot figure out is why the Cottagers' Association is so concerned about the shoreline allowances.

With some investigation we have found that the owner of the property behind the shoreline allowance has the right to control the allowance. We also understand that, unless the circumstances are a little far fetched in small fresh water lakes like any port in a storm, the owner of the property behind the shoreline allowance has the right to tell people to get off the beach.

The 66 foot shoreline allowance has come in handy for the municipal, federal and provincial governments when dealing with environmental problems and in the controlling of lakeshore development.

The allowance gives the taxpayers "the hammer". Why give it up?

Improved seating arrangements

Some kind of improved seating arrangements could be made at the fastball diamond at the community centre.

Presently there are a couple of small bleachers, which only a few people can sit on and at the outside they are less than comfortable.

We would think that some bleachers could be installed on each side of the diamond and set back a few feet from the playing area.

Possibly some other improvements could be made to the section of the park at the same time such as better benches for the teams to sit when it is their turn at bat.

The outfield fence, understandably a neccessity, was also a good idea and perhaps this is the time to institute a few other improvements to the park.

The construction company putting in the sanitary sewer system in Minden have done a good job and they have wasted very little time in getting the job done. There is still more to do yet, but the progress made up to this time has been more than encouraging. Most of the side streets in the village have been completed and last Thursday, when we were in Minden, they were working in front of the Northland Surplus store making their way to the Main Street which will be coming up next. This certainly gives Minden an advantage over Haliburton as Minden will now have both town water and a sanitary sewer system. Haliburton still have a long way to go to even complete the sewer system.

Another noted feature in Minden is their beautiful, modern blue and white litter containers which are certainly away ahead of the old green barrels used in Haliburton.

Tourism in Ontario has been down this past summer, for instance during the month of June it was down 2.5 per cent from the previous year. The Toronto dailies keep telling us that the high price of gasoline and high rates being charged by hotels and resorts are keeping people away from Ontario. They can go to other parts of the country and pay less money. Yes, the tourist industry is becoming a very competitive business and we have certainly noticed it here in the Highlands of Haliburton during the past summer season. Visitors don't seem to mind paying the price, but they expect all the conveniences when they stay at local resorts. In most cases we are charging high rates but can't continue to go on with antiquated accommodation. We seem to have plenty back here this summer but local merchants tell us that they are buying just the bare necessities.

From what we can find out you can look for some changes in many business establishments this coming fall and winter. Some will be sold to new owners while on the other hand we understand that some local tourist resorts will e up for sale.

The Dysart Arena fund has reached the $2,000 mark but they are still looking for another $5,000 to reach their goal of $25,000. Please send in your donation today.

It seems that everyone here in Haliburton County are bracing themselves for what they call a hard winter ahead. Some people are afraid that many are going to be unemployed here and the local contractors we have been talking with tell us that they have very little work lined up ahead. It seems to us that during the past week many businesses have been looking for help but it seems that there are not too many people willing to go to work. We like to look on the optimistic side of this problem and look forward to the usual winter employment. This is why we must be always on the lookout for more industry if we are to have an all year round good economy and supply jobs for those who are willing to work.

Growing up in the Elvis Presley era certainly had a profound effect on millions of people, and yours truly is no exception, so we couldn't let his sudden passing go unmentioned. For those of us weaned on Presley's music, his death will bring back many fond and not so fond memories of our sometimes painful teenage years. But their is one thing that really bothers us and this is the fact that the motion picture industry, the recording industry and the C.N.E. would get so low as to exploit the death of the leader of rock and roll. We were in Toronto just following the passing of Elvis Presley and it was astounding to see that just following his death and over night, records were pulled from the shelves and all you could see were Elvis Presley records. Movie houses in Toronto immediately pulled their shows they had booked to bring back all of the old Elvis Presley movies. At the C.N.E. you could hardly turn around without seeing his picture. We are all for promotion but let's do it in a dignified manner.

Last week we attended the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto and as we had two of our children with us we spent most of the time on the midway. One thing that we did learn the hard way and this is never take your children to the C.N.E. on childrens day. What an experience that was. There were so many people there with their kids that we were lucky to get home alive. My second oldest daughter, Wendy, along with Reeve, Murray Fearrey and Mrs. fearrey, and their daughter Brenda, went on the grandstand to see the Bay City Rollers. From what they told us after the show, it was some experience with all the fainting and screeching. It was practically impossible to listen to the music. My wife and myself took our son Derek to Ontario Place and what a ball we had there. For myself the highlight of our trip to the Ex had to be the Scottish World Festival Tattoo. This is the second year in a row that I've seen this outstanding musical show on the grandstand and it's so good I hope to have the opportunity to see it next year.

Editor's Notebook

by Jim Badgley

In this day and age when motor boats speed up and down lakes and rivers the Ministry of Natural Resources seems to have come up with a better way to see the area.

Canoe routes maintained by the ministry certainly sparked my imagination, when I read about them last week.

I can picture myself lazily floating down a stream or paddling across a lake early in the morning.

Sometimes in this day and age the cost of enjoying yourself gets a little high, but touring the area by canoe seems to be inexpensive enough.

The parking situation in downtown Haliburton is terrible at best and none existent at its worst. The strange part of the whole thing is that there are places to put your cars only everyone seems to want to park right out on the main street.

Not to single out cottagers or summer residents alone but for those of your from Toronto, when was the last time you were able to park on Yonge Street.

For the locals, we all should know better. We know where the parking spots are. It seems strange sometimes to see someone drive around the block three or four times to find a parking space. By that time a person thinking would have parked on a side street and walked a block to get into town.

Haliburton isn't the only place that has the problem though. The other day while I was in Minden I noticed that the parking spots on the main street were pretty well full at all times and a parade of cars seemed to be circling around trying to find a place to squeeze in.

Part of the blame lies with the merchants and their employees. Not all of the people, but some of them working in the downtown area seem to think that they should have the parking space in front of their store.

No doubt these people usually get it because they are downtown before 9 a.m. What they don't realize is that space just might of been a good spot for a customer to park.

It is an age old problem with hundreds of solutions but the best solution is to educate the drivers into finding good parking places.

As others see it

Dear Jim:

I would like to take this opportunity to extend my sincere congratulations on the occasion of the 95th Anniversary of publication of The Echo. Over the years, this newspaper has provided coverage of news and social events for individuals across the County and throughout the surrounding area.

In earlier times, the rural newspaper was often the only form of media which reached the outlying communities. More recently, it provides a form for the exchange of information and ideas and keeps subscribers up-to-date on activities throughout the area.

I am sure that we all realize the debt which is owed to the past and this is doubly true in the realm of reporting. We also however carry an obligation to the future and I am sure that I join with The Echo's many friends in extending my congratulations on past service and very best wishes for the future.

Sincerely,
William C. Scott, M.P.

Dear Sir:

As this years Haliburton County Fair ended, so did my reign as Fair Queen. So I would like to take this moment to say Thank you.

Thank you Haliburton County for having me as fair queen. I felt very honoured representing you at the CNE. Although I did not get into the twelve finalists, it was truly educational and an experience I'll never forget. There were 79 girls in the competition and they were from all over Ontario.

A very sincere thank you goes to Mrs. Basil Hewitt. She entered me in the fair, and from the beginning she never left my side and always gave me good advice. It was also Aunt Mable who gave me the much needed confidence, while I was at the exhibition.

Thank you mom and dad. You were there backing me up all of the way and you also gave me confidence.

My final thanks goes to a woman who was new to this entire affair, and had a very difficult job. Like my family, she came to the exhibition and cheered me on. Mrs. Jeannette Nesbitt, I would sincerely like to thank you. This has been a learning experience for us both. Hopefully next year you will have more co-operation from the fair board.

I would like to wish this years Fair Queen Darlene, the best of luck next year at the CNE and I will be there cheering you on, as many did for me.

Sincerely
Jane Swartman

Dear Sir:

It was so refreshing to read of your despair about the commonplace of breaking and entering. Vandalism is a common occurrence everywhere now and indeed the young offenders seem to get off very lightly. I too think of the days when I never bothered to lock my doors. Although todays young offenders know it is wrong to break into stores, they also know something else: it is only wrong if you are stupid enough to get caught!

It is no longer fashionable to have a healthy, well-functioning conscience. Children in school are not allowed to feel badly or guilty. This my be good up to a point, but after all, guilt feelings are the warning signals of the mind, to tell us we are doing something wrong.

After all, in a hockey game the wrong doer goes into the penalty box, no excuses. We should play fair with our children and teach them the rules of life with the same emphasis. The rules of life of the society in which we live. It is impossible to legislate good behaviour or good manners and other moral values that make life more pleasant for everybody. It should be something valuable that is passed on from generation to generation.

Parents need to become fashionable again and grandparents need to be treasured again, rather than put out of the way in our numerous homes for the aged.

This beautiful country was made great by strong courageous people who also had a strong faith. We have allowed God and the teaching of the Bible to be eliminated from our school system. Although I respect the fact that we are now a multi-cultural society, I still feel we should stand firm on perpetuating our own Christian values. I cannot imagine a Jewish nation to stop teaching its beliefs to the younger generation because there happen to be a few Christians or Moslems around, or a Moslem nation to stop its teaching of its religious beliefs for fear it may offend some Christians or Jews, or whatever in their midst. We have become a nation that bends over backwards to cater to screaming minorities, thereby undermining our own values.

Most of us struggling ordinary people need something to live up to. I cannot think of anything better to try and live up to than the teachings of Jesus Christ.

Since anything "antique" or old is so popular now, why not give it a try!

Anyone reared with a working knowledge of the Ten Commandments will, by the time he or she is 15, be able to reason right and wrong for him or herself!

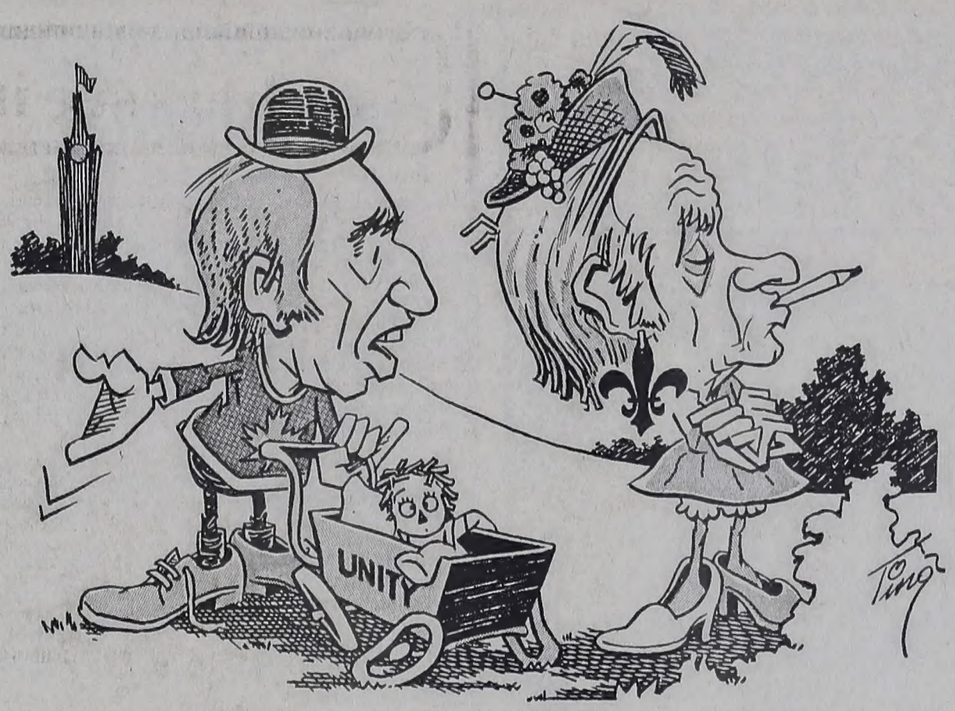
Dear Sir:

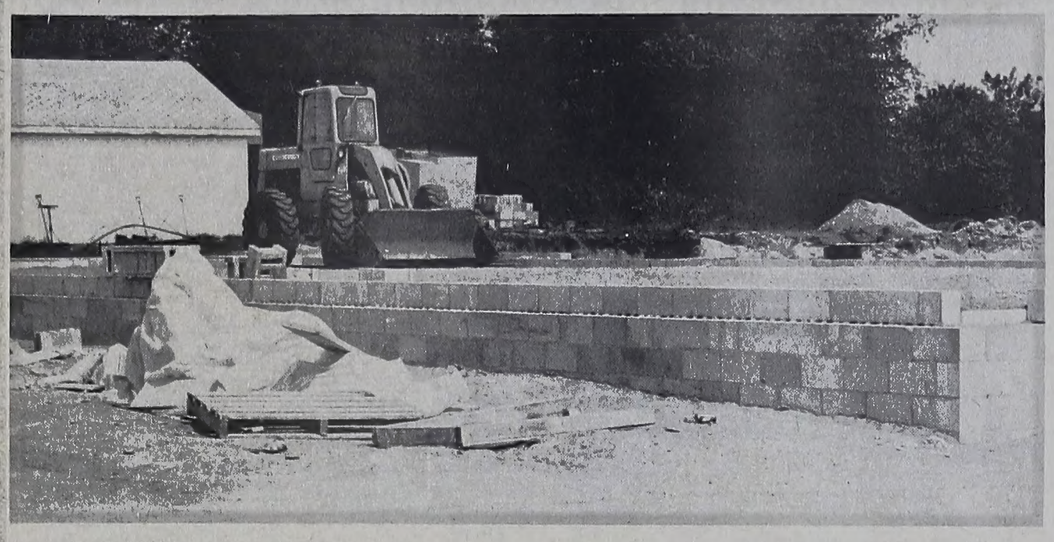
As a flying instructor and bomber pilot in World War II, I was somewhat surprised to read Bill Smiley's "Yarns of the Past" in the August 17 edition of the Haliburton County Echo.

His tongue-in-cheek comments about our reasons for enlisting in aircrew, and more particularly as pilots, falls well short of the real reasons and might better have ended on a more serious note to reflect what I believe would be a consensus of ex RCAF pilots.

It is unfortunate that the final paragraph leaves



"IF YOU DON'T WANT TO PLAY HOUSE, WE SHOULD AT LEAST LIVE TOGETHER AS MOTHER AND FATHER"



The foundation is up for the new Monmouth Arena. The fund raising campaign is still underway to build the new arena. One of the many ways of raising money has been the sale of tickets on a lakefront lot in Monmouth Township. There are still tickets left for those interested in purchasing them.

Victoria County Planing Board has been holding meetings during the month of August, in various areas throughout the county. At 2:00 p.m. on Saturday, September 3, in Coboconk Community Lions Hall, there will be a meeting for this area. The meeting will focus on the draft official plan with particular attention given to land use policies. The official plan will effect the future use of land and management of the county's resources and as an interested ratepayer all should plan to attend. It is unfortunate that the date chosen is also Kinmount Fair day and the Labor Day holiday weekend. Two copies of the County of Victoria Planning Area draft official plan are available at the township office and may be borrowed for your perusal. My husband and I having read the copy, found that it dealt in a lot of generalities with very few constructive conclusions. Do read it though, and form your own opinions.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1977 by The Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: Two sisters who are both in their late 50s and who had been very close all their lives are no longer speaking to each other.

It all happened when the married daughter of one sister told the married daughter of the other that she could find her husband on his "poker night" at a certain motel with her best friend whose husband traveled a lot. It was true, and she did. What a mess!

A marriage with four children broke up over this. The mother of the girl who spilled the beans claims her daughter did the right thing in telling her cousin what she knew. And the mother of the daughter whose marriage broke up says if the cousin had kept her big mouth shut the affair might have cooled off and no one would have been hurt.

The girls (who are cousins) are not mad at each other, but their mothers are.

I am a friend of both mothers and am trying to get them together. Who do you think was right, and what should I do?

A FRIEND TO BOTH

DEAR FRIEND: I think the girl who tipped off her cousin unwittingly showed bad judgment (even though her cousin's marriage was probably headed for the rocks anyway). But since parents are not responsible for the actions of their adult children, the ill will between the sisters is uncalled for. Remind them of this, and if they can't see it, there is nothing you can do.

DEAR ABBY: My wife is a "she-wolf." When we are out in public she is constantly looking at other men. It doesn't matter if we are at a restaurant, a ball game, or just walking down the street. You'd think her head was on a swivel.

Then to top it off, she makes some remark about how "handsome" that one is, or what a nice "build" another one has. I am no slouch myself as far as looks go. Should I give her a taste of her own medicine?

SHE-WOLF'S HUSBAND

DEAR HUSBAND: Skip the medicine. But tell your wife to keep her eyes front or some stranger will eventually call her bluff and you will be compelled to fight for her honor. And there's always a chance that you might lose.

DEAR ABBY: Four years ago my older sister was engaged to marry a man I'll call Bill, but he broke the engagement to marry another girl. (He got her pregnant and her father threatened to kill him.) My sister was heartbroken for a year, but she finally got over it. Now she's married to a very nice fellow. Bill's wife had two more kids in the meantime, but their marriage didn't work out so they are being divorced.

I bumped into Bill two weeks ago and he asked me out. I went, but I didn't tell my folks because they hate him. I have seen him several times, but I don't like sneaking around. I am 17 and Bill is 27. Do you see any reason why I can't date him out in the open?

How can I make my folks accept Bill? He's really not a bad guy, he's just had some tough breaks.

KID SISTER

DEAR KID: Without judging Bill (circumstances have already done that) may I suggest that you not reopen old wounds nor add to your parents' anxieties by becoming involved with a loser like Bill.

RENOVATE LAWNS NOW

Does your lawn look as though it had a rough summer, with bare patches and weedy spots? If so, now is the best time to restore it to the kind of lawn of which you can be proud.

First check for weeds - if you have only a few, remove them by hand. If there are a lot of weeds, a herbicide such as "Killex" will effectively control most of them.

Areas where grass is thin and growing poorly can be helped with a light application of fertilizer. Note these spots and give them extra fertilizer next spring.

These areas can also be helped by topdressing them with topsoil this fall.

Bare spots should be reseeded. Plant a good grass mixture such as creeping fescue and Kentucky or Merion bluegrass as soon as possible and not later than the second week of September.

If you have areas of lawn which are shaded most of the day, plant a lawn seed mixture suited for shade, on these spots. If there is too much shade for grass to grow, you should consider planting some other type of ground cover next spring.

Remember, a few hours work on your lawn now will give you a lawn which you can enjoy and be proud of next spring and summer.

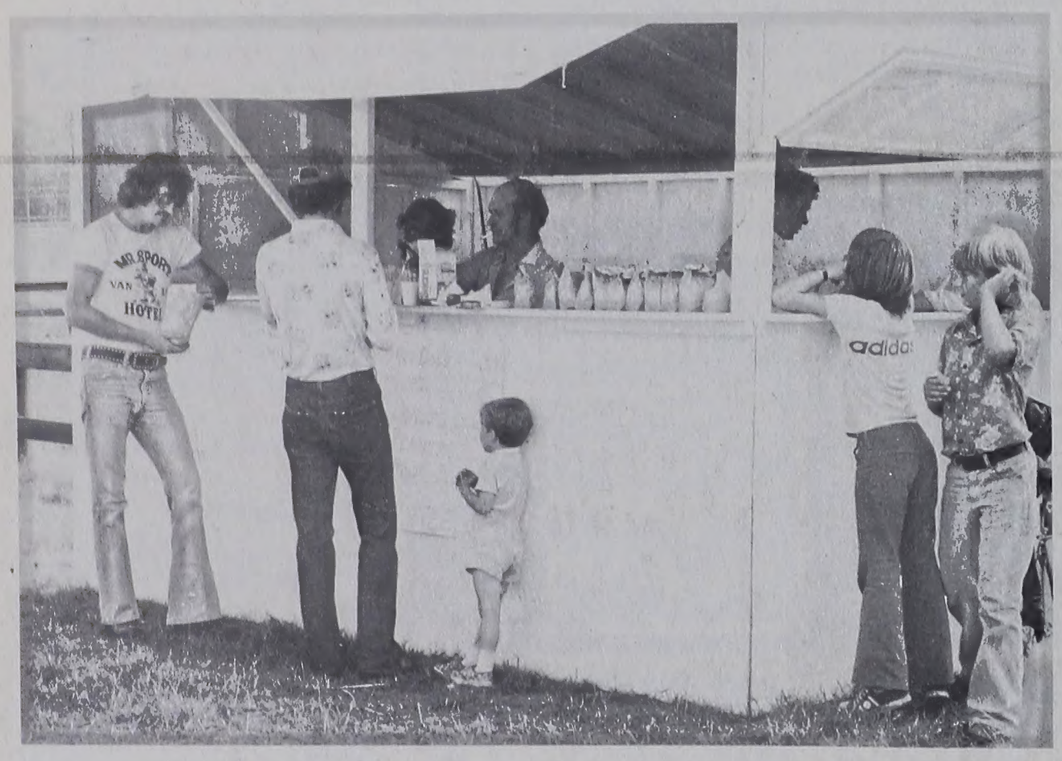
The home of Sharon and Roy Greer was totally destroyed by fire last Wednesday. The fire began at about 11 a.m. A fund raising campaign is presently in the works, in Minden, to help the couple and their three children, ranging in age from three to 15, out. The Greers lived on Davis Lake Road.



One of the more popular spots at the First Annual Wilberforce Minor Hockey Association Ladies Softball Tournament was the refreshment booth. The tournament was played on Sunday when the thermometer hit close to the 90's.

SILO GAS IS LETHAL

Silo gas is odourless and colourless and is present in the silo for a few weeks after the silo is filled and during the fermentation process of your silage leaving a high concentration of carbon dioxide. If you must enter the silo during this period, run a blower and leave it running with the door at silage level open while you are in the silo. Keep feed room doors closed during this period so that the heavier-than-air gas doesn't roll down the chute and into the stable.

Every year a number of people are affected by silo gas. If you feel nauseous and weak during the silo filling it could be as a result of the silo gas. Get out into the fresh air as quickly as possible.

Decline in fatalities

Driver and passenger fatalities continued to decline in Ontario during the first four months of 1977, said Minister of Transportation and Communications James Snow.

Figures released today revealed that 223 people died in motor vehicle crashes between January 1 and April 30 -- against 240 through the same period in 1976.

"It's a drop of seven per cent," said Snow, "but I'm convinced that if every driver and passenger in every truck and car in Ontario used the available seat belts, the decrease would have been more significant."

one with the impression that we should have turned our backs on the whole business. Given the same situation and conditions which existed in the early forties, I am sure we would indeed choose to serve in the RCAF again, even if the risks could have been anticipated.

Bill's "What did they miss" comments don't really touch on the positive side of the situation at all. While there may be an element of truth in some of his observations, there was much more to it than that. As a fighter pilot he must surely have exerienced the thrill of flying superior equipment and proving it out against the Ju 88's and Me 109's and to have the inner satisfaction of once more having overcome his opposite number. Certainly as a bomber pilot, who arrived home safely with his crew intact, there was a sense of achievement, notwithstanding the appalling loss of life involved. It was a job which, at that given time in history, we were convinced had to be done, and this to most of us was the best way to see it through. The list of the good things that were missed could go on and on.

It is fortunate, indeed, that the young men of all the countries on the allied side did not feel as Bill Smiley suggests they should have; otherwise the world might well have turned out very differently from what it is today. Although we had no clear ideas of what we wanted for this country, we certainly knew we wanted to ehlp in the preservation of freedom. It is unfortunate that the world we have seen develop since the war may not have lived up to all these expectations, but I am sure that the great majority of those of us who volunteered for aircrew, and in any then active capacity for that matter, still feel it was a worthwhile effort and experience.

I shall look forward to reading any of Mr. Smiley's subsequent articles on this subject, which he promises in his closing paragraph.

Yours truly,
Charles Appleton

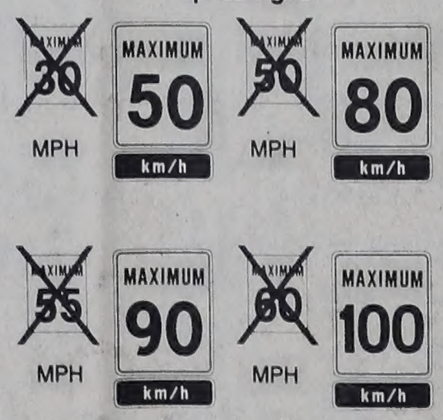
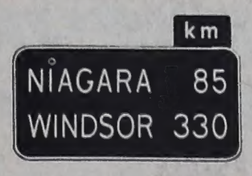
Beginning September 6, 1977 all Ontario speed and distance signs will go metric.

This is how to learn the system.

Speed signs



Distance sign
(changeover already in effect)



It's a very easy system, and most countries around the world already use it. Ontario and other provinces are adopting it under a Canada-wide plan approved by Metric Commission Canada.

Speed limits are measured in kilometres per hour (km/h). Distances are measured in kilometres (km) and metres (m).

One metre is approximately the length of a long stride. One kilometre is 1000 metres or 5/8 mile (0.625). (One mile = 1.6 km)

An easy way to familiarize yourself with kilometres is to consider the time factors involved—for example, 80 km (50 miles) would take about 1 hour to drive at a speed of 80 km/h (50 mph).

Study the signs shown here and you'll get the picture quickly.

To learn the system faster, "think metric"—don't convert back to the old Imperial unit of miles. And to measure your gas consumption in kilometres per gallon, divide the number of kilometres travelled by the number of gallons used.

Get a free copy of the informative booklet "Ontario Roads Go Metric" from any Ministry of Transportation and Communications office or LCBO outlet in Ontario.

From the Chamber

BY BOB STINSON

Another summer season is winding down and southbound traffic is heavier than usual as the tourists return home to get in a visit to the C.N.E. and get the kids ready for school. It is that time of year when most of us are looking back over the last two months and trying to analyze this year's summer season relative to others. One thing I think everyone will agree on is that our summers always have been too short and they seem to be getting shorter.

This year most tourist operators were extremely concerned at the beginning of the season that their advanced bookings were down drastically from previous years. For some reason there was an extreme reluctance on the part of our visitors to make advance bookings but, by the middle of July they were rolling into the country in vast numbers and simply looking for accommodation once they arrived here. This trend was carrying on well into August which had us feeling optimistic that it would be a very good summer after all, when suddenly the cold weather hit. When bad weather strikes and advance bookings have been good, it doesn't affect us as drastically as in this case where people had not booked ahead. We therefore ended up with virtually only four weeks of capacity operation where virtually everyone was happy.

It would not be correct, however, to assume that all tourist operators did not do well this summer. Some operators did as well or better than years in the past and were quite surprised to find out that everyone wasn't as busy as they were. Visitors are becoming extremely selective, and they're simply not prepared to commit themselves to an extended stay anywhere on the basis of a pretty brochure. They are not necessarily demanding only the top luxury resorts, but they are demanding something special. The trick is to find out what the "something special" is or can be for each facility, and then use it and promote it.

Retail businesses on the whole seem to have done as well or better this year than last, and considering that there is new competition in virtually every line of retail business this year, this would indicate a substantial increase overall in money spent within this county. Here again, as in the resorts, it is the enthusiastic good merchandiser who is reaping the lion's share of the retail business. This holds true not only in the tourist season but throughout the year.

There is a definite feeling that if we are graced with good weather this fall we may pick up much of the business which was lost due to the bad weather this August. Many people who had holidays coming to them in August simply did not take them and are now waiting to see what the weatherman has in store. Unfortunately, there was no funds available in the Chamber's budget this year for fall promotion so we are going to have to rely on the weatherman, individual operators advertising, and hopefully some good press, to bring forth the business this fall that we need so badly.

Last July, we wrote to the Honourable Frank Miller, Minister of Natural Resources, in regard to the controversial problem of water lots. A copy of that letter, along with the reply received last week from Mr. Miller, has been supplied to this newspaper to be reproduced for your information. Mr. Miller closes by saying "I trust this will clarify the situation to your satisfaction." The letter really clarifies nothing, it simply relates the fact that the Ministry intends to carry on with its unfair practice of assessing commercial operators for docks and rafts and not private property owners. Mr. Miller feels this is fair because these operators are "deriving revenue from public lands" and possibly he should have a look at some of the financial statements of the operators who are being forced to sign these leases. We have been forwarding information on this controversy to the Ontario Chamber of Commerce and through C.O.T.A. to Tourism Ontario. Hopefully they can apply further pressure from that level.

The Chamber's annual meeting will be held again during the first week of October. Last year you may recall the Chamber honored Roy Bates with the first Highlander of the Year award. The plaque reads "presented annually for an outstanding contribution of community service in the Highlands of Haliburton." Nominations are now being accepted for this years' award and anyone wishing to submit a name of any resident whom they feel qualifies in regard to the above description is invited to do so. Please submit your nomination in writing to the Chamber Office at Box 147, Minden, Ontario and include, along with the name of the nominee, your reasons for nominating them, and the signature of one other person who supports your nomination. The selection committee from within the board of directors will decide on this years' recipient and the award will be made once again at the annual meeting. It could be you.

Haliburton Legion came up with a big three games to down Minden Merchants 3-2 in Tri-County Fastball playoffs.

The Legion, after being down 2-0 in games came back with three victories, two of the close varie[illegible] to edge out the Minden club.

There has been little word on the Haliburton Huskies Hockey Club for the coming season. A number of the players from last year will be coming back (hopefully) for another season with the team.

The hockey season will be a little difficult for youngsters in the Monmouth area. The new arena will not be up until part way through the season so the players can expect to find their home games in another arena.

Bobby Orr may not have played too many hockey games in the past couple of years but the youngsters at Kilcoo Camp didn't seem to forget.

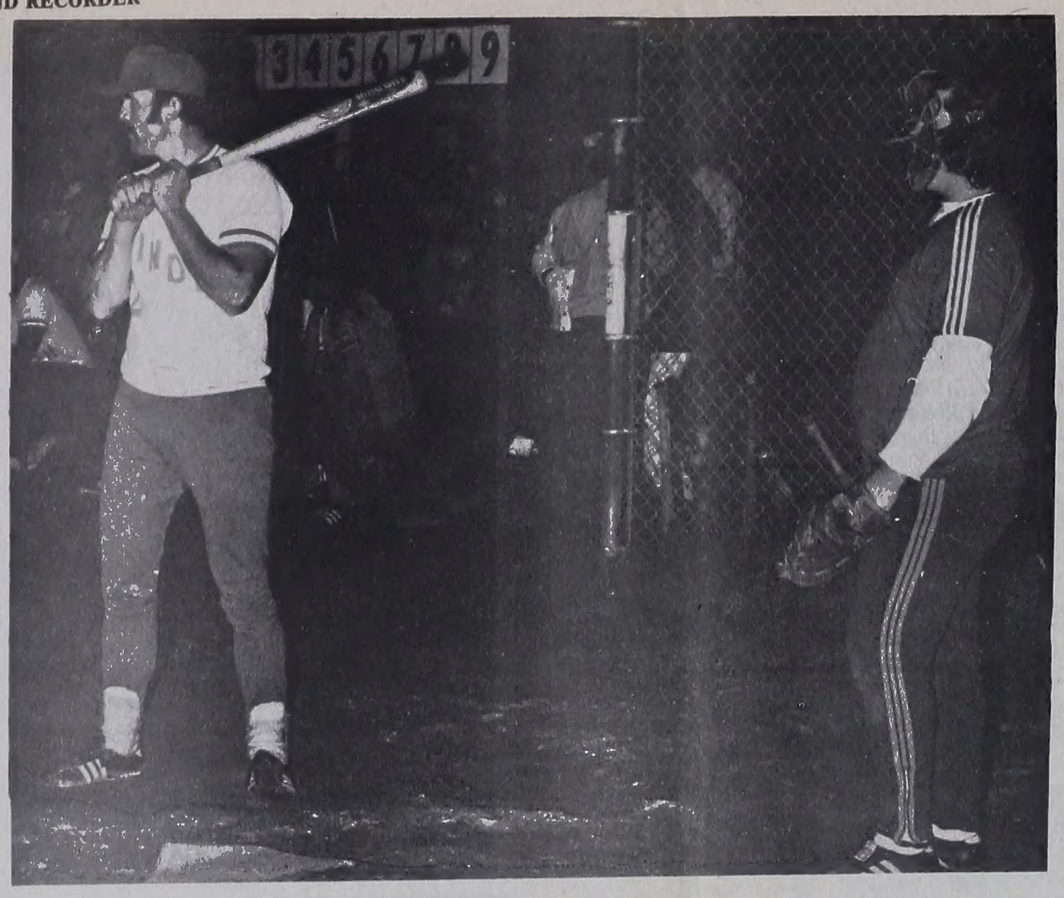
Orr spent the better part of an afternoon at the camp being mobbed by the crowds, so to speak. He signed a few hundred autographs.

A little while ago I saw a survey of youngsters taken by a small community newspaper.

The question asked on the survey was "Who is the best hockey player of all time?"

Of the five or six youngsters surveyed not one said Bobby Orr and none said Gorie Howe (how soon they forget) but they all named people like Salming and Sittler. To me neither one of those Toronto players could have laced up the boots for Orr or Howe or even a few other Toronto players in the past years. Doesn't gramps tell anyone about Syl Apps anymore?

I had the benefit of growing up in Oshawa during the times the Generals made their comeback in Junior A hockey and with the comeback was Bobby Orr, who at 16 years of age was as good as any hockey player I have ever seen.



Haliburton Legion came up with three straight victories to down Minden three games to two in Tri-County Fastball playoffs. Haliburton got strong pitching from Craig Stamp in the final game to clinch the series win. Legion started its series with Bobcaygeon last night.

Softball action

Legion downs Merchants with three straight wins

Haliburton - Haliburton Legion had little trouble with the Minden Merchants all season in Tri-County Fastball action but the playoffs were different with Haliburton finding itself down 2-0 in games before coming back to win the series 3-2.

In the final game of the series a 10 strike out performance by Craig Stamp helped Haliburton to an 8-2 win in their home park.

Haliburton won the fourth game of the series 3-1 in Minden.

Haliburton scored first in the final game when Wade Stamp walked, Craig Stamp hit a single and then Derrell Stamp drove Wade in with a double.

Haliburton ran the count to 2-0 when Kevin Sisson scored in the second inning.

The winning run came in the third inning when Derrell Stamp hit a single and was driven in by a single by Bernie Nicholls.

Minden finally got on the scoresheet in the fifth inning when Ron Reid was driven in by a hit by Brian Shaw.

Haliburton got that run back in the fifth when Craig Stamp scored after hits by Nicholls and Bain.

Neil Burk drove in Barry Shaw in the sixth inning to give Minden a life but Johnson scored for Haliburton in their half of the frame after a hit by Craig Stamp.

Haliburton put the game right out of reach in the bottom of the eighth inning when Johnson, Wade Stamp, and Derrell Stamp all scored. Bain drove in two of the runs.

A homerun by Craig Stamp in the first inning of the fourth game and then a couple of runs off a Bernie Nicholls homerun in the fourth inning, was all Haliburton needed to down Minden 3-1.

Stamp's homerun came with two out in the inning.

Craig Morrison scored after hitting a triple in the second inning to even the count for Minden.

The winning runs for Haliburton came in the fourth inning when Derrell Stamp hit a single and Nicholls hit his long blast.

Minden Curling Club annual meeting Sept.14

Fire Committee Report August 15/77

Further to the Council meeting of July 25th and in response to a request from Mrs. Marilyn Huels, President of Catchacoma Cottagers Association, Fire Chief Hickey and an assistant put on a demonstration of the portable gasoline pump and back-pack pump which is stationed at Pearson's Landing. The demonstration took place at the Catchacoma Cottager's Association Annual Meeting on Saturday, August 6th. The meeting was held at the Red Lion Inn on Highway 507.

I have advised Fire Chief Hickey to make the necessary arrangements to get the Pearson's Landing portable pump overhauled at Pearson's Landing. Conversation with Mr. Hickey has provided the information that it will be necessary to send to Toronto for ignition part for the above pump.

The equipment at Beaver Lake will be inspected by Councillor Nokes and Deputy Reeve Chambers. Mr. Nokes has been requested to make a report to the Catchacoma Cottagers Association with respect to the feasibility of purchasing and locating a boat for fire purposes on the lake. This report has now been completed with in the terms of reference. A further study of the situation will be conducted by Mr. Nokes and costs are continually increasing. This water lot lease is just another cost that is adding to the fears of members of this industry that they will soon be driven out of business."

He pointed out the possibility of a small resort owner paying $30 per year plus an additional $50 survey cost while a private cottager next door, with a bigger raft and dock, pays nothing.

In his reply Mr. Miller said, "This is all part of a province wide program launched by the Ministry of Natural Resources to regularize the many thousands of docks, boathouses and other improvements which are built on Crown land without authority, and in many cases quite unknown to the owner."

He added that commercial owners are being approached first because "it was felt that their docking facilities are deriving revenue from public land."

Mr. Miller pointed out that a solution is still being sought for the regularization of private docks and boathouses on Crown land.

"Until an overall solution is found we are regulating or having removed those private occupations which present an actual conflict or are detrimental to the public interest," he said.

Hon. Frank Miller,
Minister Natural Resources,
Ontario Parliament Bldgs.,
Queen's Park,
Toronto, Ontario.

Dear Mr. Miller:

Last February our Chamber wrote you in connection with your ministry's policy to lease water lots, and on March 15, 1977 you replied. On your subsequent visit to the Pinestone Inn we mentioned to you that your reply was not in agreement with statements issued by our local Natural Resources Office. You said at that time the entire program was under review. It would appear at this time, that whether or not the program is under review our local office is still actively negotiating water leases.

There is considerable concern not only in our area, but in others, about how these leases are being arrived at, and what protection the local operator has against enormous increases in the lease fee. All members of the tourist trade are extremely concerned this year that tourism is down and costs are continually increasing. This water lot lease is just one more cost that is adding to the fears of members of this industry that they will soon be driven out of business. Small resorts with nothing other than a raft in front of their property are being asked to pay $30.00 per year plus a $50.00 initial survey cost. The private cottager next door to them with possibly a bigger raft and a bigger dock, pays nothing. The resort operator is advised that he must sign the lease or move his raft, while his neighbors enjoy the use of theirs. Not only is this procedure discriminatory but some commercial operators have been paying their lease fee for over two years when others have yet to sign their first lease.

We understand you favor private enterprise and welcome this fresh viewpoint to your ministry. We understand in this regard that you did attempt to have provincial park fees adjusted accordingly but were not supported by the balance of your government. We do hope you will continue to work towards having that policy changed as well as this one. Please understand that we do realize where some marinas have occupied large areas of the water with docks and boat houses that some form of regulation and possibly even rental should be in order. We do feel, however, in our area where the occupation of such areas is of such minimal amount that it is not reasonable to place this additional burden and worry on the small struggling commercial members of our community.

Yours truly,

Bob Stinson,
Secretary-Manager,
Haliburton Highlands
Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Bob Stinson,
Secretary-Manager,
Haliburton Highlands
Chamber of Commerce,
Box 147,
Minden, Ontario.

Dear Mr. Stinson:

This will acknowledge with thanks your letter of July 25, 1977 in which you again express concern over commercial operators having to pay rent for docks and other improvements occupying the Crown land in the Haliburton area.

As outlined in my letter of March 15, 1977 this is all part of a province wide program launched by the Ministry of Natural Resources to regularize the many thousands of docks, boathouses and other improvements which are built on Crown land without authority, and in many cases quite unknown to the owner. Commercial owners are being approached first because it was felt that their docking facilities are deriving revenue from public lands.

A solution is still being sought for the regularization of private docks and boat houses on Crown land. Until an overall solution is found, we are regularizing or having removed those private occupations which present an actual conflict or are detrimental to the public interest.

I trust this will clarify the situation to your satisfaction.

Yours sincerely,

Frank S. Miller,
Minister,
Ministry Natural Resources.

Smallmouth bass tips scales at over 6 pounds

Haliburton - Haliburton County has produced some big fish this year but a recent catch of a six pound three ounce smallmouth bass will be noted as one of the largest for the species in quite some time.

Doug Lavender of Oshawa was fishing with his children, Brian 7 and Brenda 3, when the fish hit. Mr. Lavender explained that it was quite a battle for about 15 minutes before he was able to get the fish up to the boat and out of the water.

He admitted that it was the biggest bass he had ever caught.

The fish was 20½ inches long and 16 inches around the girth. Mr. Lavender said he expects to enter the trophy catch in the annual Molson's Big Fish Contest.

The fish was caught last Tuesday in Cranberry Lake where the Lavenders have a cottage.

Brian Lavender, 7, Doug Lavender and Brenda Lavender, 3, show the six pound, three ounce smallmouth bass they caught while fishing last week.

The fish was 20½ inches long and 16 inches around the girth. The Lavenders, from Oshawa, were fishing on Cranberry Lake.

Trust fund set up to buy incubator

Minden-A trust fund for the eventual acquisition of a travelling incubator for the Minden Ambulance was initiated by the Anson, Hindon and Minden council last week.

The recent donation received from Ms. Flora M. Morrison, proprietor to Windy Pine Resort, north of Minden, prompted the action. Ms. Morrison, in a letter, praised the efficiency of the Minden Ambulance Service.

The unit had been discussed during the past few years but finances prohibited its purchase. The travelling incubator, valued about $2,000.00 is considered an excellent addition to Minden's medical facilities for maternity cases. The unit would also be made available to the Haliburton Ambulance Service where required.

Mr. Richard Parisotto, Clerk-Administrator for the Townships of Anson, Hindon and Minden, advised that the Trust Fund invites donations, bequests and donations in lieu of flowers towards the acquisition of the special unit.

Kinmount-A three vehicle accident Monday, in Kinmount, resulted in a total of $675 in damages.

There was $450 damage to a truck driven by Donald Chambers, of Belleville, $200 damage to a car driven by Owen Mintz of Irondale, and $25 damage to a car driven by David Anstess of Sault Ste. Marie.

The Coboconk detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police report that the accident took place at a construction site in the town.

Mintz has been charged with impaired driving.

Echoes of the Past

FIVE YEARS AGO:

On August 4 we reported the departure of Bob Davis who is canoeing all alone from Maple Lake to Moosonee. We have had many inquiries since Bob left, and we are happy to tell you that his parents received a letter from him last Saturday.

He was enjoying every minute of the trip, despite the inclement weather, and has met some very interesting people. At LaSarre he was wined and dined and treated to a sauna bath by a Rotarian friend of Dr. Good.

At this point in time he is right on schedule and should be across Lake Abitibi. From there it's a long old paddle to James Bay via the Abitibi River and he says there's "frost on the punkin" when he gets out of the sleeping bag in the early morning to start making breakfast.

Monday night at St. George's Ball Park, in Owen Sound, the Haliburton-Minden Squirt softball team became champions of their zone in the OASA playoffs. The team now goes on to play Barrie in all-Ontario semi finals and if Barrie is defeated, the boys will play another zone and could possibly become all-Ontario champions.

The Royal Canadian Legion, Branch 566, Cardiff, held its annual community picnic on Sunday in Cardiff, under beautiful sunny skies. Over 100 children and their parents, grandparents, relations and their friends attended.

The races, under the able instruction of E. Hurst, were greatly enjoyed by young and old alike, with the many prizes being won. The pony rides proved to be popular - the ponies being supplied by C. McGillivray, Mr. Lockwood and Basil Cox.

Haliburton Highlights

BY CREIGHTON FEIR

New signs seem to be cropping up on the Main Street every so often and we noticed that the two new latest editions are two beautiful signs, one for the Red & White and beside this one stands one for McGuire Tire Sales. They both look very attractive.

Some citizens have been asking us when something is going to be done about the antiquated bridge near the home of Mrs. Max Archer, on Park Street. This is one that is on the sidewalk. In talking with some of the members of council they tell us that a new bridge and sidewalk will be put in but that the project cannot be started until the sewers are installed in this part of town.

The big human cry this summer seems to be the fact that the water levels in Haliburton County are very low. A friend of ours who has a cottage on Drag Lake told us this week that he had been coming back here for the past twenty-five years and this water level is the lowest that he has ever seen. Just what seems to be the trouble? In our opinion it's the same old story that has been going on for years. We have to lower the booms so that they will have enough water to operate the Trent Canal System. Let's hope that the government will do something in the very near future to rectify this situation.

Sgt. and Mrs. Danny Varty, and daughter, were visitors here over the past weekend. Danny is stationed with the R.C.A.F. in Ottawa.

At the time of writing this column work has not as yet started on the new Haliburton Curling rink. We understand that a contractor has been hired but they are going to have to hustle if they expect to have any curling here this winter.

After many hours of hard work on the part of the Haliburton Tennis Club they report that they are just about ready to turn on the new floodlights at the courts. In talking with some of the members they tell us that they are just waiting for a special switch to arrive and the lights will be on. By the time that this weeks papers go on sale the lights could be on. Some people say that we didn't need lights at the tennis courts, but we disagree. We think that it's a marvellous idea.

On Friday we noticed that the welders were busy installing parking meters on Highland Street near the new section of sidewalk between Arrow TV and Communications and the Bell Canada office.

The local Senior Citizens Club held their first meeting at the Orange all at Haliburton on Thursday, August 25th. You might say that the Orange Hall basement was filled to capacity as 125 people turned out to meet and chat with their friends and to sit down to what we understand was a very delicious meal. The lady representing the New Horizons organization was also present and she had to be impressed with the large turnout as the place was so full of people that she was unable to get in the front door and had to go around and come in through the back door. All senior citizens are invited to the Orange Hall every Thursday, starting at 12:30 p.m., to enjoy an afternoon of friendship, games, refreshments, or what have you. We wish them the best of luck.

When we talk of recreation and something for the young people to do in Haliburton, many things have to be taken into consideration. One thing that we do know and that is that we have the facilities here. The problem seems to be that many of these facilities are not being put to good use. It's fine to sit back and say that we have these facilities, but let's look at a few of the facts. How can the young people get involved in various activities when there is no supervision? If we have ball diamonds for ball teams, or dances, or what have you, who is going to take the time to organize these events so that the young people can participate in them? At the present time nothing is being done. Maybe it's come to the time that we do need a recreation director.

John Eakins, MPP for Victoria-Haliburton, was in Haliburton last Thursday, at his office in the municipal building, to meet people with problems. He also took time out to get around town to talk to people and make new friends. His office in the municipal building in Haliburton is open every Tuesday and Thursday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. If you have a problem just drop in to the office. It is impossible for Mr. Eakins to be present there every Tuesday and Thursday but from time to time he will be there. He has a secretary on duty on these days that will look after your problems and relay them onto Mr. Eakins.

It may be a little early in the game, but may we remind you that Festacolor 77 is coming up on September 24th at the Dysart Community Centre in Haliburton. Come out and enjoy the most beautiful time of the year. Prove how hardy you are! Lots of contests to test your strength and skill. Log sawing contest (crosscut only), splash tank, nail driving (this is for the ladies), beer garden opens 12:30 to 5:00 p.m. with no admission charge. You can also dance to the music of the two hottest groups in the area, Kkuff and Revivel.

Limited edition graphics

Haliburton - James Stewart's love for Haliburton County can be seen in a number of his works of art at the James Stewart Limited Edition Graphics Show at PineStone Inn.

Mr. Stewart, who has been coming to his "home" on Lake Kashagawigamog and Highway 121 for the past six years, said he and his family fell in love with the area about 12 years ago and have been coming up here on a regular basis since that time.

Mr. Stewart said that presently he spends five days a week in Toronto at his studio and two days in Haliburton but that will be changing in the near future when his studio is completed at his house.

With the new studio here, Mr. Stewart will be spending five days a week in Haliburton and two with clients in Toronto.

What are limited edition graphics? Mr. Stewart explained that each subject matter is numbered and signed and each one is individually rendered.

He pointed out that the actual mat and frame is part of the work.

Mr. Stewart said that this show, which can be viewed in the lobby of The PineStone Inn, is his first one man graphic show.

He said that he has been represented in shows in the United States and Canada.

He operates his own studio in Toronto, specializing in pharmaceutical merchandising and design concepts.

Educated at O.C.A., he spent the following seven years as a designer in U.S. studios.

He returned to Canada with his brother Edward to form Stewart & Stewart Design Ltd.

Five years later he joined a large Canadian corporation for a seven-year stint as Creative Director.

Mr. Stewart holds several design awards and industrial design patents. His work is represented in corporate and private collections.

The show runs to October 9.

James Stewart, of Haliburton, sits in the lobby of The PineStone Inn and Country Club where his limited edition graphics show is taking place. The show will be held at PineStone until October. Mr. Stewart, who is a commercial designer, said he fell in love with Haliburton about 12 years ago and has been coming to the area ever since.

Men of the Cooperage

Green Side

by Ed Miller

This poem is for the green side
And every word I hope is true
Brant Sisson is the foreman
Of this rough and sturdy crew.

Tom Mungham, and Moss McCracken
And Aubrey Worsley to
Along with Wilfred Creary
They stack and tail down to

George Thompson and Daddy Addy
May there names forever stand
They are the filers on the green side
And mill right when they can

Bob Moore and Arthur Morrison
Bill Weaver and Elden Brown
They run the circular and reasaw
And keep the slabs going round

Walter Morrison and Harry Murray
Are slicer men today
Along with Don and Raymond Sisson
They keep them going full sway.

Heres to Ott Scott and Wilbert Upston
Harry Bagshaw and Arnold Roberts to
They work all over the green side
Where they are needed most that is true

And heres to Len Pearsel
Fred Miller and Bert Madill
They just came back from over seas
And welcomed backed at the mill.

Claus Barry and Bill McCracken
Happy Irish and Ron Cowen to Draw the logs to the hot pond
And dump and scale them to

Bruce Smith and Anthony Elstone
Have the slickest jobs to do
One sees the logs are hot enough
And the other shoves them through.

Jim Flood and Frank Baker
Jack Roberts and Jack Teasdale
They all work over in the boiler room
For our engineer Art Hill.

Our night watchman is Herb Horsley
We have to name him to
For he has to keep a punching that clock
The whole long night through.

And heres to Harold Morrison
Assistant Manager is he
He looks after the yard and heading mill
And a busy man is he.

Conway Woodcock on the green side
And the whole mill gang felt blue
When a buzz saw on the green side
Cut Cons right arm into.

But Conways feeling better now
He found that he can still
Cut those saw logs into blocks
As they come into the mill.

Lorn Fry is another casualty
He was on the green side on of the best
Till he lost his fingers in the plainer
And almost lost his wrist.

But Lorn is back at work now
For he is a tough young man
He is helping with the repair work
And oiling when he can.

Vick Woods and Calvin Sisson
Jack Barry and Lloyd Madill
Both stuck and feed the plainer
On the greenside of the mill.

Frank, Harry and Oliver Barnum
Lee McIntosh and Ev Upton to
They all come from West Guilford
And work on the greenside crew.

Harvey Tripp and Roy Anderson
Bill Henry and Gordon Nichols to
They are some of our oldest engineers
And work in Art Hill's crew.

Ross Stamp and Bernard Upton
Gordon Lewis and Tom Lowjaw to Work sometime on the greenside
But belong to the dry side crew.

Reg, Les and Delbert the Hie boys
Who in Eagle Lake do dwell
They are slicer men at the cooperidge
On the green side of the mill.

Now come all you young maidens,
About to choose a man
Forget those boys on the dry side
And pick a green side man.

News from Extendicare

BY DR. O.W. ANDERSON

Wednesday morning, Mrs. Miriam Lewis loaded us on the bus and took us to her cottage home on Dark Lake at Wilberforce. She has a very lovely place even though a part of their lot is rustic. There is an excellent show of flowers distributed here and there in nice variation. Soon we had lunch consisting of orange drink, barbecued hot dogs with all the trimmings, then ice cream cones. Some went bathing, while others of us played horseshoes. About midafternoon watermelon was served after which we gathered everything and returned. It was a wonderful outing and all thoroughly enjoyed it.

Thursday we had an invitation to merge with the over sixties of Haliburton in joining in a potluck dinner. This dinner was very well patronized and similarly well provided with every conceivable item of food. It was attended by Ms. Andrea J. Ferrier of the New Horizons program which is based in Toronto and administered from Ottawa. On this occasion Ms. Ferrier was optimistic about both of the groups. The Wilberforce seniors were also represented at this dinner. It was a splendid gathering and we hope far reaching as regards the help we all get from New Horizons.

Friday morning was our devotional period. Rev. John Smith was our spiritual leader and Mrs. Smith the pianist for our hymn singing. The theme from the Psalms stressed the greatness and power of God and His infinite compassion. We look forward to these services.

We sometimes wonder about the national debt that results in millions of dollars leaving Canada each day to pay the interest. This is the biggest factor of all in keeping the dollar as low (in relation to the U.S. dollar) as it is. On the other hand it gives the U.S.A. an insurable interest in us. Money spent outside Canada, in goods or travel, worsens this one sided balance of payments. Another interesting feature is the probability that say a $15.00 to $20.00 an hour electrician, going to work, is wearing overalls and other items made in the orient, at $0.25 an hour. It seems that some people can't win.

This is the time of year when we can expect our work with plants will be removed in large part by frost. We once heard frost predicted on TV and we covered some things and chanced others. Frost did not occur. However, our work from now will largely consist of working with cuttings, or maybe leaving horticulture alone for awhile in favour of pottery, or basket weaving, or working with the fabrics.

We still expect to have a shed built, big enough to hold our newly acquired lawn furniture rather than have the winter weather it. While we are doing this, others in this community will be busy harvesting what they can.

Gems of Truth

Unbelief Helped

"Lord I believe, help Thou mine unbelief." Mark 9:24.

On almost every page of Holy Writ one can find some evidence that the Bible is not of human origin. Human writers do occasionally give a picture of the less noble characteristics of their heroes but the Bible tells more of the weakness of those through whom God has worked than it does of their virtues or strength. In plain honesty the ugly facts of weakness and gross sin are openly protrayed in the best of men. Take King David for an example. Here was "a man after God's own heart," used by the Holy Spirit to pen many of the Psalms, made a conqueror whose very name caused the enemies of his country to tremble, yet he fell to the sin of adultery and committed murder to hide it. II Samuel Chapter 11.

As it is in the case of David, so in all Biblical records of the men and women whose lives are woven into the Divine record. Without apology or explanation their words are recorded and their actions written for all generations to read. No other but God dare exercise such liberty in writing a Book.

It is also thus that the Lord Jesus stripped the mask of hypocrisy from all who came in contact with Him. The high priest might appear as a great monument to virtue in the eyes of the people, but in the presence of Jesus that same one betrays the true sense of his character and the unholy ambition of his life. Matt. 23:13-33, Mark 12:35-40. The Pharisees set themselves up as examples for men to follow, but when Jesus uncovered their camouflage of self-righteousness, they were revealed as "whited sepulchres" filled with "dead men's bones!

The man who cried out for help in his unbelief portrays one with a great need who sought the aid of Jesus when every other hope had failed. When the Saviour offered help on the sole condition that the petitioner would exercise faith, the desperate father cried, "Lord I believe," and then in sublime honesty added, "Help Thou mine unbelief!"

The true sense of that cry is clear and loud as it is completely in line with all human experience. We go to God with our burdens and desires, practicing faith with our lips but in our hearts we know that we scarcely expect an answer. Thus, if the blessings of God were meted out to us entirely by the measure of our faith and expectation, small indeed would be our happiness and experience. We all, had we the honesty of this troubled father, must confess that our faith is nothing to brag about. Mark 9:24.

What about the Divine side of this problem? It is right that all men should do as this father did, cry out to God to help us where faith is necessary. Who among us has sufficient trust and confidence in God that we need not any enlargement of it. It is even so in the matter of salvation. The "unaided faith" of an individual seeker would not be sufficient to bring the desired redemption. The Ephesian Epistle makes this very clear when it says "For by grace are ye saved through "faith" and that "not of yourselves," it is the gift of God. Eph. 2:8. Thus it is that even when our sense of need and desire to accept Christ as Saviour stir us to some definite action, we still need God's help to enlarge our small faith and make it adequate to receive salvation from His hand. Having just enough faith to make that first move toward God, we can say "Lord help out unbelief," and that is exactly what He does. He brings to fruition that which we are unable to do. There is no contradiction in the two divisions of Mark 9:24.

The principle of this verse runs like a stream in Holy Writ. All the great men and women of faith mentioned in Hebrews, Chapter eleven, were people who had "faith" that set the arm of God into operation. They took the first step, maybe even exhausting their faith in it, but God moved and brought their faith to accomplishment.

Just a little faith friend, that's all you need. Enough to enable you to open your mouth and cry out to the name that is the guarantee of sufficiency. He will do the rest. A man once said to Mr. Moody, that great man of God of yesteryears, "My you must have great faith." No, said Mr. Moody, "I have a little faith in a great God." That truth remains the same today. It is the principle upon which the Lord God blesses cries of "help thou my unbelief."

The Word of God

Brian V. Sullivan

In this current article and the one following we will examine some of the arguments made by people who do no believe in the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead.

There are some who believe that Jesus was not dead in the first place, but that he simply fainted. They suggest further that in the coolness of the tomb he revived and came forth. This "swoon theory", as it is sometimes called leaves much to be desired. It does not answer how a crucifixion guard could send message to the governor Pilate that Jesus was dead, if he wasn't (Mark 15:44-45). It does not allow for the fact that the soldiers who came to speed up the death process by breaking the legs did not break the legs of Christ because he was dead already (John 19:31-33). It does not show how it's possible to pierce a man's side with a spear and have blood and water pour out without causing his death. (John 19:34-35). It does not make allowance for the fact that the body was wrapped in linen clothes and spices (John 19:39-40) which would have smothered someone who was not already dead. It does not account for great strength that would be required by such a wounded man to remove the stone. Friend, if you look at it carefully, it's far easier to accept the truth than some theory of men.

Other people believe that the body was stolen by either the disciples or the Romans, or possibly some other group. Who would steal it, and what would they gain by it? Let's think for a moment. If the disciples had stolen the body, would they have been so ready to declare the message of a risen Christ to a world that did not want the message. A look at the persecution, tribulation and abuse they endured should tell you that they truly believed that He had been raised from the dead. What about the Romans, or the Jews? If either one of these had stolen the body, they would have produced it on the day of Pentecost. Can you think of any better way of spoiling one's sermon than of showing up with the literal body of one that has been declared as having been raised from the dead? No, they didn't steal the body.

What happened to it? It's just exactly what the scripture declares. Jesus was raised from the dead.

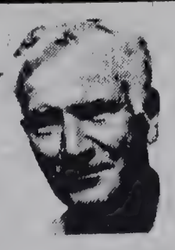
The boys came



By BILL SMILEY

THIS is being written from a hospital bed, where I am in traction and under heavy sedation. Don't worry. I wasn't in a car crash. I just had a five-day visit from by grandboys.

It seems that my daughter was moving and it was going to be awfully difficult with the boys underfoot and it was a great chance for Gran and Grandad to really have a good visit with their favorite people untrammeled by the interventions of parents.

What can you say? "Sorry, but we like to play golf in the afternoon, spend a quiet evening, and get up when we feel like it in the morning, during holidays"?

Of course you can't. You burble someting like: "No problem, dear. We'd love to have them. It'll be a real treat." And then you hang up the phone, look at your better half, and mutter mournfully, "Good Gawd, the kids are coming."

They came, they saw, they conquered. And that's why I'm writing from hospital. As soon as I get out of traction, they're moving me, permanently, to a place called Autumn Daze, a home for chronic grandfathers to eke out their last few months, exchanging senile horror stories about grandchildren.

Oh well, it may not be so bad. My wife says she'll come and visit me regularly, except during the golf, skiing, fall and sewing seasons. That means once in March and once in November. She promised to bring me a drink on each occasion, because my nerves are shot to hell, too. But that's a long time between mickeys.

It isn't that my grandsons are bad kids. They're not. It's just that they are three and a half and one and a half years old, and their favorite sport, indoors and out, is tormenting the living daylights out of each other.

First few days weren't bad. The Old Lady has a way with them. She can change a diaper on one and carry on an incredibly complicated conversation with the other without getting a hair out of place. She can sit at the sewing machine, with one on each knee, and actually sew, as they try to poke their fingers under the needle. When she's cooking, she plops them up on the counter beside the stove, where the older one asks 84 questions, all beginning with "why," and the little one opens the cupboard doors and bangs his eye on them and shrieks.

During this period, my role was a fairly passive one. All I had to do was get them their breakfast. Nothing to that. I give them each a can of yoghurt and half a banana. For dessert, I open a can of peaches and get the ice cream out.

It may not be your standard, unimaginative, cereal breakfast, but the boys go for it and seem to thrive on it.

And then, of course, when they've finished breakfast and are in a great mood, there's not much for me to do. Except let them play around, on, and over me, break up eight fights over whose ball or shovel it is, and serve as a trampoline when they line up at the far end of the living room, run as hard as they can, and hurl themselves head-first into Grandad's lap, almost invariably knocking heads together, with subsequent recriminations, howling, and both of them on my knees being comforted.

But before you know it, lunch is over and it's nap time. No. 2 goes down happily with a bottle. No. 1 requires six stories. If I read the one about Flicka, Ricka and Dicka one more time, I'll go out of what is left of my mind.

But it works. He gets groggy. Just as he's drifting off, No. 2 hurls the bottle out of his crib, leaps up, rattles the bars, yells for action and both are wide awake ready for More Fun And Games With Grandad.

Afternoons in the backyard are comparatively peaceful, except for one thing. For some misguided reason, I have only one lawn hose. Did you ever see two boys with only one hose between them? Older is stronger. He wrests hose from Younger and squirts him with ice-cold water. Younger bellows, runs to Grandad, soaking from head to foot, and jumps up to be loved and petted.

Older forgets hose and starts to climb gate. Grandad yells. Meantime, Younger has picked up hose and gleefully squirts Grandad.

Grandad yells again, unprintably. Younger drops hose and runs, square into square corner of picnic table. Great welt on forehead. Gran will be furious with Grandad for not watching boys properly.

Those were the good days. Came Tuesday, and Gran was committed to a golf tournament. Dubiously.

"Are you sure you can cope?"

"Who me? Course I can cope. No sweat. I can handle these two with one head tied behind my back."

"Well, maybe ... but ..."

"Gawn, away wid yez. It'll be child's play."

And it was. Six hours of it. During which: eight fights were broken up; the boys ate all four of the chicken legs I'd prepared for the three of us; we went shopping and I lost one for 60 panic-filled seconds in the maze of the supermarket; the Younger discovered how to unfasten the buckle of the seat-belt; the Older started yelling for his Mommy when I smacked his ass for clobbering his little brother with a ping pong bat, which for some reason unknown to man or God, he had found behind the car seat.

My daughter walked in with a cheery "Hi, Dad!" and found me on the phone trying to call the police department, the fire department, anybody.

She looked at me, shook her head, took the phone from my shaking fingers, and called an ambulance.

Mr. Boston addressed Council pertaining to a long standing dispute over whether or not a travelled roadway over his property is public land, (conc. 15, lot 4, Cavendish Twp. Salmon Lake). After considerable discussion Mr. Boston was advised that a search would be made at the Land Registry Office in Peterborough and if the records reflected that in fact there was no registered Road Allowance, then Council would confirm to him in writing that the Municipality has no interest in this roadway and considers it Private Property.

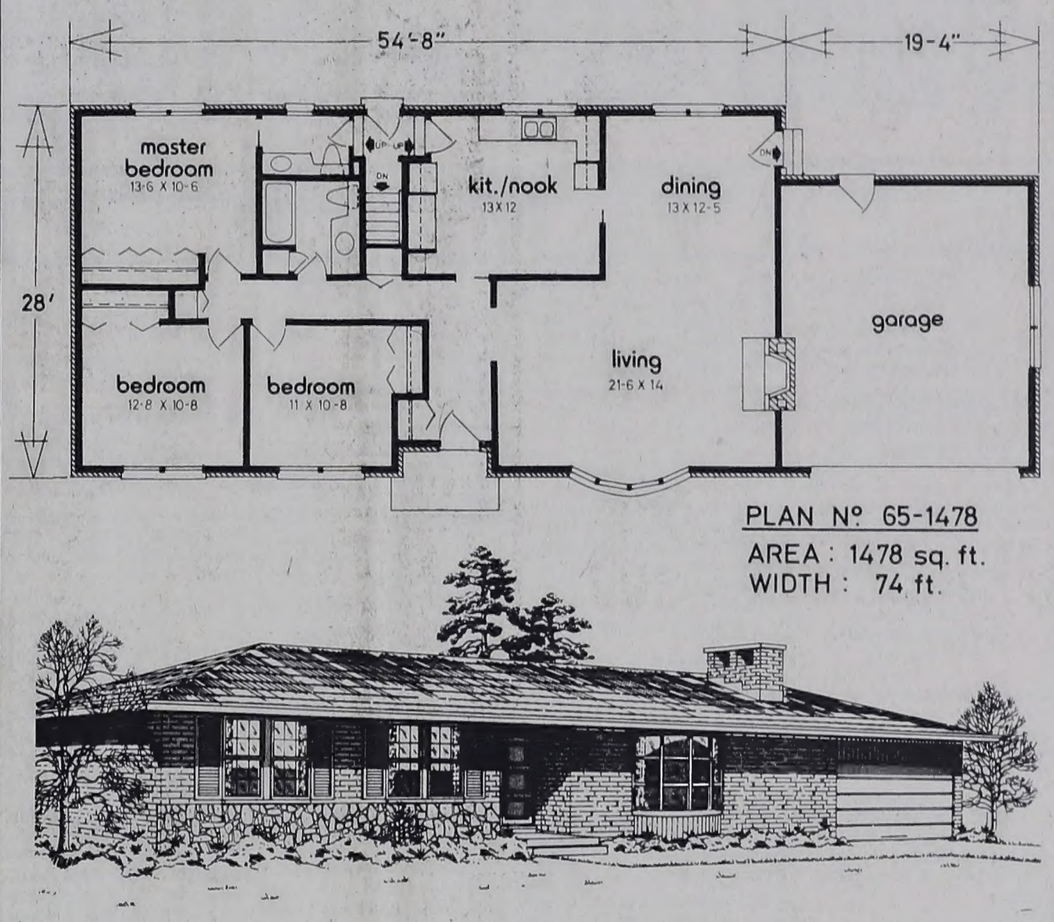
Home of the Week



PLAN Nº 65-1478
AREA : 1478 sq. ft.
WIDTH : 74 ft.

This three bedroom full basement bungalow is well-suited to the large frontage lot and the growing family.

The pleasant low profile exterior, finished in brick and stone veneer is accented by a charming bow window and spacious recessed front entry.

The entrance hall leads to the large ell-shaped living and dining room. The living room features a raised brick hearth fireplace which, together with the square paned bow window, creates a focal point for relaxed family living.

The large kitchen and dining nook combination enables the family to separate formal dining and casual family meals. It may be closed off from the dining area and hall with sliding doors.

The kitchen itself features large working surfaces and generous cupboard and storage space. A third door leads from the kitchen to the rear entry and downstairs bathroom.

All three bedrooms are large, with good-sized closets accented by louvered bi-fold doors. The master bedroom features a two piece ensuite bathroom with a window to the rear yard. A special feature allows access to the ensuite from the rear entry, minimizing traffic through the kitchen to the main bathroom.

The main bathroom is readily accessible to all bedrooms and features a tiled-in tub and contained linen closet separate from the two main linen closets in the hall.

This modern bungalow affords the growing family abundant space for gracious living and good potential for future development.

Plans for design No. 65-1478 may be obtained at a cost of $60.00 for the first set and $9.00 for each additional set, plus $3.50 for postage and handling. B.C. residents please include 7% sales tax.

Send for the current edition of Select Home Designs Series #34 featuring imaginative decorating and home improvement ideas plus more than 300 quality home plans of every type. Available for $2.25 ($1.75 plus 50 cents postage and handling.) To order these items please send cheque or money order payable to the Home of the Week. Address to: Home of the Week, The Haliburton County Echo, 382 West Broadway, Vancouver, B.C., V5Y 1R2.

WINTER WHEAT

During the next 4-6 weeks, a number of people will be planting winter wheat. This is a crop that can yield very well and be a good cash crop. However, winter wheat is susceptible to winter killing and should only be grown on well drained soils.

The variety Frederick is by far the most popular variety of winter wheat even though it has been only available the last two years.

Soil testing is the best method of determining fertilizer requirements for the crop. There is still time to take a sample and get the results back by planting time.

Last year it was suggested that winter wheat be planted later than normal in order to avoid the virus disease that was affecting grain crops. The virus has not been a problem on spring grain crops in 1977 and is not expected to be a problem on winter wheat this fall. The crop can be planted during the last half of September.

SECONDARY MANUFACTURING

One hundred and sixty five new manufacturing establishments were among the major firms entering secondary manufacturing in Ontario in 1976, reports the Ontario Ministry of Industry and Tourism. These companies added 2.5 million square feet to the province's manufacturing and industrial space with 3,362 new jobs being created. Expenditures for new buildings and equipment were estimated at $108.9 million.

TOURISM EMPLOYMENT

Direct employment in Ontario tourism industry last year totalled 165,000 people. Revenues amounted to $2.8 billion of which some $900 million flowed in from the U.S. and abroad.

Honey making at Camp Allsaw

BY JULIA SIKORSKI

Nothing can quite beat the sweet prize of the insect world, honey; honey on baking, honey on toast; and have you ever tried honey glazed pork chops?

Each year Camp Allsaw runs several bee hives. These are primarily looked after by the camp's owner director Mr. Sam Hambly. The beekeeping project is run in conjunction with the camp's conservation program and interested campers are presented with an opportunity to witness, first hand, the collection of this sweet natural wonder.

To begin a new hive the bees are shipped from the U.S. The large box of drones and workers, carrying in a minute compartment for the queen and a few drones, arrives by mail or truck in early spring, in order that the hive may be established early.

Upon arrival, the bees must be promptly introduced to their new home. First the box compartment containing the queen must be removed. A cork situated at one end of this box, is removed exposing a soft candy. The small box is then placed in a prepared glass plate super. This super allows easy observation of new bees. Next the main body of bees is poured onto the super and a roof is put on. The bees readily accept the hive because they sense their queen within. Meanwhile, the bees eat away at the soft candy in the small box, until the queen and her colony are united. She too will now accept the new home. Thus the new hive has been established.

Upon this acceptance of the hive, the already fertile queen will begin to lay eggs to produce brood and enlarge the colony to its usual 80-90,000 bees. The new bees are always provided with a starter comb from an old hive. Meanwhile worker bees continue to produce new cells filling some with honey to feed the new brood.

The queen is normally allowed to produce brood in two supers. This is enough to keep up the hive population, mostly workers or imperfect females. When both supers are filled, a queen excluder, or wire mesh, not open enough to allow the queen to pass through, is added on top of the second super and then a third super is added. The worker bees are somewhat smaller than the queen and readily pass from one super to another. Workers add cells onto the foundation frames and fill these with extra honey. This is the honey that belongs to the beekeeper.

Nature starts a new colony by swarming. Normally swarming is not desirable at Camp Allsaw. The hive loses about 10,000 bees whenever a queen is produced and the old queen leaves with a swarm to establish a new hive. Usually there is no time to provide this colony with a new home and they will take up residence in a tree. Here they are useless to a beekeeper. Plus, the old hive is set back while it produces the new replacement bees.

Swarming is most commonly induced by lack of space in the hive. Supers must be checked and replaced, and an addition made when filled with honey. Bees with nowhere to work move out in favour of larger home.

Weather or instinct can induce bees to swarm. An overabundance of drones indicates the onset of a swarm. Careful observation of the hive will warn the beekeeper of the oncoming swarm. Thus, he can either destroy the new queen in her cell prior to emergence or provide a hive for the swarm.

Early spring swarming may be desired if new hives are to be started. The new brood must have time to mature into a full sized colony before peak honey flow. Peak flow usually occurs in late July through August at Camp Allsaw.

If a new queen is produced to replace the old, she must be mated. The queen and drones go on a mating flight. It is the sole purpose of the drone, or male bee, to mate the queen. The young queen sets a very stiff pace for the rather cumbersome drone. As a result, only the strongest can keep up with her. Mating with several of the more vigorous drones, the queen will produce a strong new brood. The cumbersome drone meets immediate death after mating the queen but he has fulfilled nature's purpose. The queen is now fertile for life and will return to the interior of the hive.

At times, an old queen will fade in production and the hive will weaken. At this point it is common practice for a beekeeper to remove the old queen and artifically introduce a young queen. To do this, the hive is left queenless for a few days. The bees become lethargic, lazy and mope around for lack of a leader. Now when the queen is introduced, the bees are eager to accept her.

Bees over winter well at Camp Allsaw despite a few bear problems. In preparation for the oncoming winter, the bees kick out the cumbersome drones. At this point they are a burden to the colony. This phenomenon usually occurs some time in October.

The beekeeper too must prepare the hive for winter. Prior to winter Mr. Hambly wraps the Allsaw hives in tar paper, leaving a top and bottom exit. He also places a styrofoam square under the hive lid.

These two things ensure an insulated hive.

During the winter months, the bees ball up inside the hive with the queen at the center where it is warm. Each worker bee moves slowly and take her turn on the outside of the ball. As the ball moves around the hive, honey is consumed.

On a warm sunny day in winter, the hive heats up inside. This signals the bees to take their cleansing flight. The bees exit through the top hole of the hive and deposit accumulated excrement outside the hive. The hive is never soiled. The workers seem able to store the excrement until it can be released on one of these cleansing flights.

An average hive at Camp Allsaw will produce sixty to seventy pounds of honey per season. This the bees derive from milkweed and other wild flowers.

"Smoking allows the beekeeper to remove honey from the hive. A typical smoker consists of a spouted metal can and a set of attached bellows. Wood chips give a good smoke when burnt in the smoker. Wet grass is always placed over the top of the smoking chips to prevent flying sparks. The bellows must be pumped to provide air to keep the chips smoking.

First the beekeeper smokes the entrance and joints between the supers that are going to be removed. Next he smokes the top of the frames to slow down the bees that are there. The frames can now be removed with care. Smoke aimed at the bees clinging to a frame causes them to engorge themselves in honey, thus slowing them. The bees can now be easily shaken off the frame.

Back at the Camp Allsaw ecology center basement, the honey is extracted. A steam heated knife is used to remove the caps from the honey comb. Next the honey is centrefuged out in the camp's extraction machine.

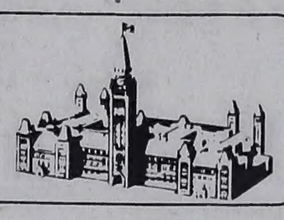
At last the honey is ready to pass through the mesh bag that filters out small particles of wax and then placed in bottles.

The spare bees wax is melted down for candle dipping at crafts. One camper, Peter Thyrring, has come up with a solar wax melter for this purpose. As you can see at Allsaw there is never any waste.

When the honey flow is in full swing, the camp can collect enough for its own use as well as enough to sell to campers and parents at the end of each session. The small charge covers the bottling, labelling and upkeep of the bees.

Mmm, that honey is good! It's all natural, void of processing. How sweet it is, honey and life at Camp Allsaw.

OTTAWA and Small Business



by JIM SMITH

Someday, somehow, the technicians of this world will devise a marvellous machine which will be so important that the rest of the world will be utterly unable to function without that machine.

The machine will be so efficiently designed that it will require only one human operator. Moreover, the operator will require absolutely no skills; any one of the billions of humans will be able to master the machine within a matter of seconds.

Then the politicians will get into the act, granting the operator the right to strike. The unions will insist on – and get – exclusive operating rights for that one individual. So, if the operator isn't happy with his working conditions, the entire world will grind to a halt.

Crazy? Of course. Impossible? Not at all; in fact, something similar has happened to our public services in the past decade. The air traffic controllers grounded the entire country – including hundreds of thousands of travellers and fantastic amounts of business mail. Even that is of little importance compared to what the inside postal workers are planning for Christmas.

There's incipient idiocy in our labour laws. Any block of workers, given responsibility for a function with enough economic or safety importance, can cripple the nation. In return for sacrificing a couple of weeks' pay, the postal workers can bring the economy to its knees.

This isn't to say that the workers' case is unjustified. However, there are options for seeing justice done – options which do not cost the workers lost wages or the economy lost opportunities. The most popular of the alternative suggestions has long been some form of arbitration with settlements related to private sector wage hikes.

For several years, the Canadian Federation of Independent Business, armed with a poll showing support by more than 90 per cent of its membership, has been urging the government to outlaw strikes in essential public services. The Federation believes that some form of arbitration is far more practical for all concerned. There is, in fact, justification for the belief that much of our labour strife exists because there is an institutional basis – the excessive power of public sector unions – for it to exist.

Surely the government has better things to do than to officially sanction Canada's economic suicide.

TODAY'S CHILD

BY HELEN ALLEN

THE TORONTO SUN SYNDICATE

Marty has just turned nine. He is a handsome youngster of Cree Indian descent with medium brown hair, dark eyes and a winning smile.

Active Marty is a real outdoor boy who likes to play outside in any weather. Though he enjoys other children, he does not need either company or toys but can entertain himself happily for hours. He is in good health. Nobody seems to know how he got numerous burn marks on his body but he is fearful of fire.

Marty speaks both Cree and English but his vocabulary is smaller than that of the average nine-year-old. He is behind in school but he loves books, being more interested in the pictures than the text. He is creative and imaginative about making things with his hands.

Living in a farm foster home, Marty is expected to help with chores, which he does cheerfully. He needs a family where he will receive much love and where academic expectations are not high.

To inquire about adopting Marty, please write to Today's Child, Ministry of Community & Social Services, Box 888, Station K, Toronto M4P 2H2. In your letter tell something of your present family and your way of life.

For general information about adoption contact your local Children's Aid Society.

CREATIVE AND IMAGINATIVE

Busy season for the Kawartha Fisheries Unit

This summer has been a busy field season for the Kawartha Lakes Fisheries Assessment Unit. Starting in May on Lake Scugog, the unit began by studying fish populations for seven weeks using trapnets which allowed release of fish unharmed. Catches of fish from the lake were so heavy that no more than six locations could be fished at any one time. Total catch for this period was over 11,000 fish with the most numerous species in the cach numerous species in the catch being 4,800 yellow pickerel. Catches in descending numerical order after pickerel were pumpkinseed, bullhead, rockbass, largemouth bass, smallmouth bass, carp, maskinonge, perch and common white suckers. Catches from Lake Scugog have been excellent and all species appear in healthy condition.

Also starting in May, a creel census program was initiated on Sturgeon Lake and Lake Scugog; this has continued through the summer and will be continued into the fall. Success in May and June for both lakes were excellent but tapered off to slightly better than a typical August, with a lower angler success. Better days are in sight for the fall, however, when the angler success rate is expected to increase significantly.

During July and August fish samples for contaminant analysis have been obtained from Rice, Pigeon, Sturgeon, Scugog and Balsam Lakes. Fish species collected were pickerel, perch and largemouth bass. Samples have been forwarded to Ministry of Environment labs for analysis.
